Navara

The Navara is one of the new breed of innovative, clean burning wood heaters (manufactured from high quality steel with extremely low emissions/environmentally friendly) they are economical and efficient to use.

The advanced design coupled with a rotary fan pressurises the firebox, quickly assisting ignition and rapid heat transmission throughout your home.

All vogue heaters are tested to the rigorous Australian Standard AS/NZ 4013:1999. This standard requires heaters meet stringent efficiency and emission levels.

When you choose a Vogue wood heater you can be assured it is one of the most advanced wood heating appliances available in Australia.
